Our Story

A Legacy Rooted in Purity

Laxmi Essential Oils was founded with a clear purpose to deliver 100% pure and natural essential oils and botanicals to the Indian and global markets. Over the past several decades, Laxmi Essential Oils has grown into a trusted name in the field of natural essential oils and botanicals. Built on a strong foundation of experience and evolving with time, we've refined our practices through years of industry knowledge, market insights, and operational maturity. Today, our work reflects a commitment shaped by generations of learning—delivering consistent quality, sustainable sourcing, and industry-aligned innovation.

While technology and customer demands have evolved, our philosophy remains unchanged: to provide the purest and best-quality essential oils and botanicals. We maintain control over every step of the process, from cultivation to extraction, to ensure our standards never waver.

We uphold traditional expertise while incorporating modern extraction techniques and testing protocols to ensure that every product meets global quality benchmarks. Our work is guided by a deep respect for the natural world and a dedication to delivering high quality oils to businesses that demand transparency and reliability.

Our Values and Vision

For us, delivering an extraordinary user experience means creating essential oils and botanicals that have superior taste and aroma. Our products consistently receive high praise for their fragrance, potency, and purity feedback we take great pride in.

Balancing tradition with modern innovation is central to our operations. We integrate both age-old farming wisdom and scientific techniques, offering farmers expert guidance while applying advanced extraction methods in our facilities. Our dedicated R&D team focuses not only on product development but also on improving farming and extraction processes.

Sustainability plays a central role in our decision-making. From efficient irrigation systems that conserve water to responsible soil management and low-emission extraction practices, we take active steps to reduce our environmental impact.

In the next five years, we aim to be one of India's leading essential oil and botanical producers. We plan to broaden our product portfolio and introduce new, innovative botanicals tailored to evolving market demands. For us, success is about being a trusted name in purity, innovation, and sustainable excellence.

What Sets Us Apart

At every stage of our process, whether it's sowing seeds or we combine deep agricultural knowledge with precision engineering. This isn't just manufacturing; it's a hands-on commitment to quality, powered by thoughtful sourcing, regional expertise, and advanced extraction methods.

01.

Farm-to-Essence Philosophy

We grow our own crops and collaborate closely with farmers across India, ensuring quality from the root up. From cultivation to extraction, we oversee every phase to guarantee purity and traceability.

02.

Pan-India Presence

With two state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities in North and South India, we cater to the diverse botanical ecosystems of the country bringing a full spectrum of Indian essential oils under one roof.

03.

Optimum Pricing Without Compromise

Our integrated value chain, from cultivation to final processing, allows us to offer premium-quality essential oils and botanicals at optimum prices.

04.

Advanced Technology & Extraction

Our infrastructure features cutting-edge equipment for steam distillation, solvent extraction, fractional distillation, and supercritical CO2 extraction. Every botanical gets the method it deserves, based on customer specifications.

Our Commitment to Quality

Our Quality Control and Research & Development teams play a vital role in upholding our standards. These teams conduct daily QA and QC procedures to ensure that every batch meets our internal benchmarks. We perform GC-MS and GLC testing regularly, and share these results along with samples to our clients for complete transparency. Any client concerns are handled with prompt attention, backed by technical documentation and test reports to ensure trust and clarity.

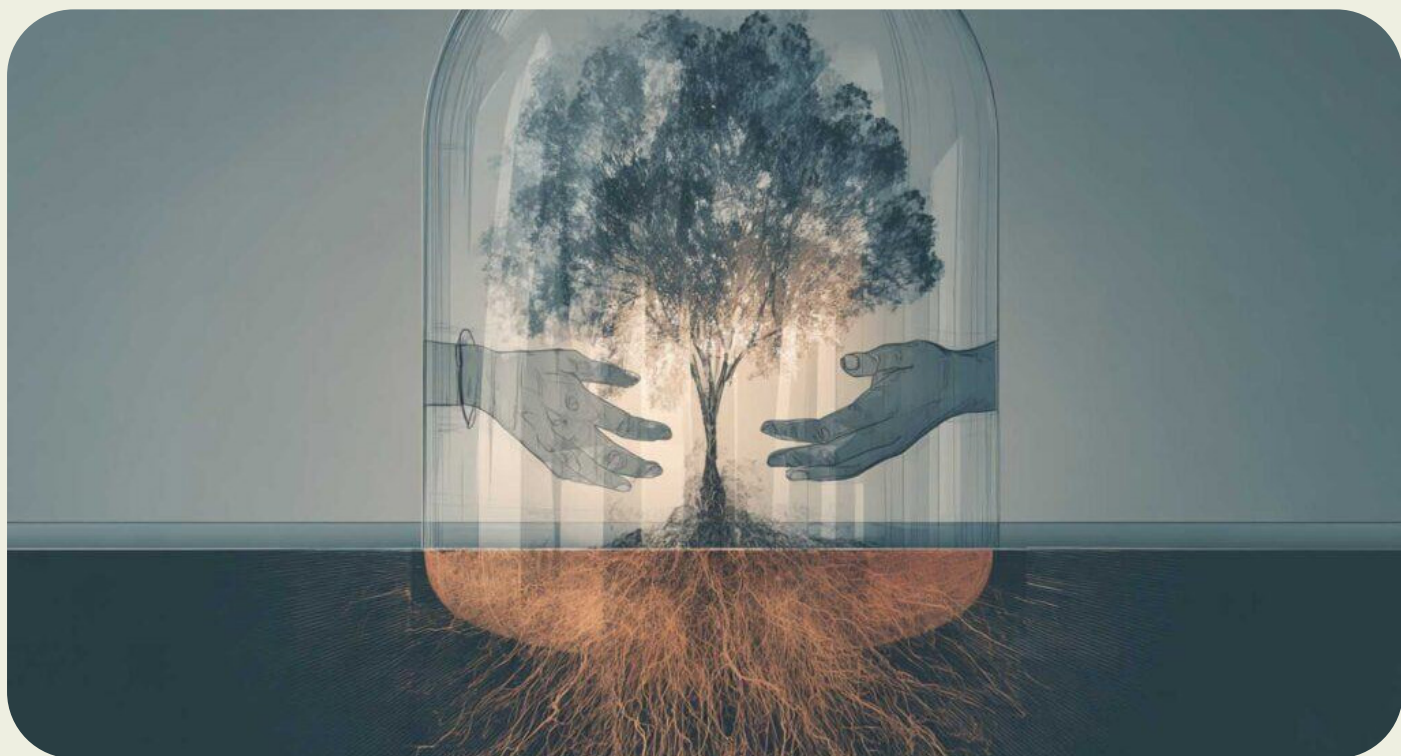

PRODUCTS and RAW MATERIALS

While we refrain from highlighting specific products, each essential oil and botanical we produce is crafted with unmatched care and precision. We prioritise delivering products tailored to customer specifications, ensuring consistent quality over promoting off-the-shelf formulations.

To maintain consistency despite seasonal variations in crops, we manufacture our products batchwise. This ensures uniform quality regardless of harvest fluctuations.

Rooted in Relationships

Behind every bottle of essential oil is a relationship that begins in the fields. We work closely with farming communities across India, many of whom we've partnered with for years, even decades. These long-standing collaborations are built on fair trade principles, shared knowledge, and mutual respect. Our field teams regularly visit farms to provide training on sustainable agricultural practices, support the implementation of efficient irrigation techniques, and help farmers improve crop quality without compromising the ecosystem. This deep, personal connection with our sourcing partners ensures not only traceability but also a more ethical and stable supply chain, benefiting our customers and farming families alike.

Transparency at Every Step

Purity means little without proof. That's why we maintain a transparent, farm-to-finish traceability system for all our products. From the moment a seed is sown to the time the final extract is bottled, every stage of our process is documented and monitored. Clients receive access to detailed batch data, GC-MS reports, and third-party lab certifications, providing complete clarity on origin, composition, and compliance. This level of openness helps our partners make informed choices and assures them that what they receive is authentic, ethically sourced, and precisely what they requested. In a world where "natural" claims are often loosely used, we aim to set the standard for verified integrity.

Extraction and Manufacturing

Our manufacturing facilities employ a variety of sophisticated extraction methods including steam distillation, solvent extraction, CO2 extraction, and fractional distillation. The choice of method depends on the nature of the botanical and the requirements of our customers.

Our facilities are designed to operate under the highest hygiene standards, and we have stringent protocols to prevent contamination or adulteration. Regular cleaning, inspections, and quality checks are standard practice. In our commitment to sustainability, we are also planning to shift fully to solar power this year, further reducing our environmental footprint.

Tested for Safety and Purity

Our Quality Control and Research & Development teams play a vital role in upholding our standards. These teams conduct daily QA and QC procedures to ensure that every batch meets our internal benchmarks. We perform GC-MS and GLC testing regularly, and share these results along with samples to our clients for complete transparency.

Though most of our testing is conducted in-house, we also offer third-party lab reports when advanced analyses are required. Any client concerns are handled with prompt attention, backed by technical documentation and test reports to ensure trust and clarity.

Tailored for Your Needs

No two businesses are alike and neither are their formulations. Whether you're in the food, beauty, wellness, or aromatherapy space, we understand that your product needs are specific and nuanced. That's why we offer end-to-end customization support, starting from the sourcing of the right botanical species to choosing the ideal extraction method, concentration, and aroma profile. Our technical team works closely with clients to understand their exact specifications, offering suggestions, samples, and formulation input when needed. We also accommodate varying regulatory requirements depending on the target market, helping our partners develop compliant, high-performing products with confidence.

Seamless Global Logistics

With customers spread across the globe, efficient and secure logistics are a non-negotiable part of our service. Our export team handles all international documentation, including phytosanitary certificates, safety data sheets, COAs, and regulatory clearances. We work with a network of reliable shipping partners to ensure timely deliveries, while our internal tracking system allows clients to monitor the status of their shipments from dispatch to doorstep. Whether you're placing bulk orders or pilot-scale shipments, we maintain consistency in packaging quality and compliance. It's part of our promise to provide not just exceptional products but a frictionless experience from order to delivery.

Backed by Certifications

We know that global markets demand more than just great products, they demand proof of quality, safety, and process reliability. That's why our facilities are certified by globally recognized bodies, including ISO 9001 for quality management, FSSC 22000 for food safety, and HACCP for hazard control. Our in-house labs conduct regular GC-MS and GLC analysis, while independent audits and third-party tests further validate each batch. We share all technical documentation with our clients, ensuring full compliance with international norms, whether you're exporting to the EU, US, or Asia-Pacific markets. These certifications aren't just badges, they're part of our identity as a company committed to excellence.

Your Trusted Ingredient Partner

Choosing an ingredient supplier is about more than just price and availability, it's about trust. At Laxmi Essential Oils, we see ourselves as an extension of your business. From product development discussions to after-sales technical support, we collaborate at every stage to ensure your formulations succeed in the market. Our team is always available to assist with sourcing insights, regulatory updates, and consistency checks to support your product lifecycle. With over three generations of expertise and a culture built on integrity, we aim to be more than a supplier, we strive to be your long-term partner in growth, innovation, and quality.

Application and Industries

Our essential oils and botanicals serve a wide range of industries, from aromatherapy and fine fragrances to pharmaceuticals, processed foods, cosmetics, personal care and flavours. We work with both large-scale B2B clients and emerging D2C brands, offering custom solutions tailored to their formulations and needs.

We support small businesses and independent brands that value premium quality. Our ability to create oils as per customer specifications makes us a reliable partner across many sectors.

Trusted By Global Business

We serve a healthy mix of domestic and international clients. While we don't spotlight specific regions, our reach spans widely across markets. Whether through direct exports or third-party distributors, our supply network is structured to ensure timely and efficient delivery. We primarily deal in bulk supply, which allows us to cater to high-volume demands without compromising quality.

We are known for our quick turnaround times, and although shipping timelines vary depending on the destination, our clients often cite our speed and efficiency as key strengths.

Who we serve

Our client base spans a wide spectrum of industries that value clean, traceable, and high-quality botanical ingredients. We supply raw materials to, skincare and personal care manufacturers, wellness companies, and export houses that distributes globally.

In the domestic market, we work with manufacturers who develop botanicals and essential oil for wellness industry, flavour, and fragrance industry, cosmetics, hair oils, therapeutic balms, pain relief blends, incense sticks, and herbal formulations. Many of our long-term clients rely on us not only for consistency in supply but also for formulation support and co-development of new product lines.

Over the years, Laxmi Essential Oils has built a reputation for reliability, consistency, and long-term partnerships. Our production systems are structured to adapt to evolving client needs while maintaining the same level of quality, traceability, and service.
